ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall will make their first appearance at the Boyd Opera House this evening. Nothing more engaging than the refined, spontaneous art of these artists has been observed upon the stage for a long time. Recalling other artists now and then by word or act, they are in essence unlike others that have strutted their brief time upon our stage. For a native instinct for the stage Mrs. Kendall has added the blandishments of art that conceals art, and so clever is the blending that one looks in vain for the point where nature leaves off and art begins. Mr. and Mrs. Kendall will present this evening and also at the Saturday matinee, "A Scrap of Paper." On Friday evening the programme will be changed to "Ohinet's charming play, 'The Ironmaster,' and for their farewell appearance in Omaha on Saturday night the popular comedy-drama of 'The Queen's Shilling' will be given.

Next Sunday and Monday are the Kendall nights at the Grand when 'A Pair of Kids,' the greatest laughing show that ever visited Omaha, will be the attraction. The successful run of five years of this amusing play is due to its quick and pantomime tricks and entire originality of fun-producing situations, attractive musical specialties, a conglomeration of everything that is farcical and funny. The old country 'jay,' impersonated by Mr. Kendall, is of a very broad and elastic type and as irresistible in his mirth-provoking qualities as he is thoroughly original in his conception. Probably no feature is more familiar to amusement lovers throughout the country than that of old 'Jiles Button.'

Headache, neuralgia, dizziness, nervousness, spasms, sleeplessness, cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine. Samples free at Kuhn & Co.'s, 14th and Douglas.

Putting Up.

Mr. John L. McCague says that the money asked of the bondsmen for the new pontoon site for the payment of the expenses of condemnation has almost been raised. Nearly all of the subscribers to the fund have expressed a willingness to pay, as they have begun to fear that their dilatory action may lead to the selection of another site for the proposed building.

The amount fixed upon by Mr. Baker is $5,000, as he believed that amount would pay all necessary expenses.

Death of a Pioneer.

Mr. Charles Beckman, one of Omaha's oldest settlers, died suddenly of heart disease at Blair, Neb., at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. The Funny Kids.

The success of the laughing craze "A Pair of Kids" is in its quick action of the ever changing funny situations and the rapidity with which the extravagant and ridiculous situations follow each other.

Unlike many such plays there is an impetus for ridiness by play or funny bit of business introduced which makes the farce more interesting to admirers of refined comedy who patronize farcical entertainments for a hearty and whole-souled laugh. The "Kids" take a goodly number of laughs, "Let 'em go Gallagher," "Down Went McGinty" and "The guy with dash and ginger," an extremely palatable comedy.

MORTUARY.

Impressive Funeral Services Over the Remains of Rev. P. J. Boyle.

The funeral services over the remains of Rev. P. J. Boyle, late pastor of the St. Peter's Catholic church on West Leavenworth and Twenty-eighth street, took place yesterday morning.

The church was filled with mourners, among whom were people from all the parishes in the city. Over the entrance were heavy folds of crape, while the interior was hung with the same material. The altar also was draped and the light of the sanctuary was barred by heavy folds which were drawn across the windows.

The remains lay in a metallic casket trimmed with flowers. The latter was literally covered with flowers worked into beautiful and symbolic designs. Some of these rested upon the railing of the sanctuary.

Upon the lid of the casket rested the gold chalice and paten of the deceased.

At 10 o'clock a number of local and visiting visiting clergy filed into the church and took seats on either side of the casket.

Among them were noticed: Vicar General Chokas, Rev. P. F. McCarthy, Carroll and Kelley of St. Philomena's, Revs. John Bennett and Barrett of St. Patrick's, Rev. G. Claiborn, St. Mary's, Rev. F. Fitzgerald, S. J., Creighton college; Rev. F. Fitzgibbon, South Omaha; Rev. F. Fitzgerald, Fremont; Rev. F. St. Lawrence, St. Peter's; Rev. P. Donahoe, Dale; Rev. J.

English, Hastings; Rev. T. Walsh, Norfolk; Rev. F. Lee, York; Rev. F. Emma, Schuyler; Rev. T. M. Conway, North Platte; Rev. M. T. Cassidy, O'Neill.

After the office solemn requiem high mass was chanted, Father Moriarty acting as celebrant; Father Carroll, deacon and Father Barrett, sub-deacon. Father Fitzgerald of Fremont acted as master of ceremonies.

The sermon, an eloquent exposition of the certainty of death and a eulogy of the deceased, was delivered by Father Fitzgerald of Fremont, an old friend of the deceased.

The vocal music was rendered by a male choir composed of the following members of the St. Philomena's choir: Messrs. Murphy, Wilman, Burke, Doyle, Baumer, Brown and Swift. The organ was presided over by Mr. Provo. Miss Fannie Arnold sang the solo of the services with exquisite feeling sang "Rest, Spirit, Rest."

The remains were forwarded to Pittston, Pa., the birthplace of the deceased.

MOGULS REMAIN.

Messrs. Cable and Miller Still Studying the Situation.

It looks as though the railroads in this vicinity intended to inaugurate a system of improvements not only involving vast sums of money but also a change in the state of affairs.

President Cable, the Rock Island president, and General Manager Miller of the Milwaukee are still in the city conferring with local officials with a view to making the proposed changes.

Mr. Cable's movements are open, while those of Mr. Miller are concealed. The latter magnate refuses to be seen except by those who are directly interested in the deal which brought him here. He has had several interviews with the Nebraska Central bridge projectors regarding the utilizing of the proposed bridge and has expressed the opinion that with Union Pacific officials as to an agreement for coming across their bridge into the union depot; also with citizens of Council Bluffs regarding the proposed union depot on that side of the river.

Mr. Cable has said in so many words that he was here solely for the purpose of securing right of way for his road through Omaha, and a connection with the Denver system.

He and Chief Construction Agent Cameron of the Union Pacific started out yesterday on a tour of inspection and terminal facilities on both sides of the river.

Stone's Resignation.

Reports from Chicago say that General Manager Stone of the Burlington has resigned and will leave railroading to engage in an entirely different line of business.

Among local officials no one seemed surprised at Mr. Stone's action. Each, however, refrained from expressing an opinion as to what had occasioned it.

"Is his retirement the result of the late engineers' strike?" was asked.

"Not a hundred yards," replied one. "I don't believe that was the cause," said another.

"Stone's notion for resigning and getting out of this business," declared Colonel A. C. Dawes, "were the same as those which actuated Paul Morton. They were not getting salary enough to keep the position, and saving anything for rainy days or old age."

"I congratulate him on being able to free himself from the denigration and get into something easier," remarked Vice President Holcomb.

Who will be Mr. Stone's successor? Is the red-hot question. Some predict George W. Holdrege, while others think he will not be taken from the B. & M.

"It has been the company's policy to promote men from this section of the country," for instance, P. S. Eustis and Tom Miller," said one.

"Yes, that's all right, but they have never taken away the head. Who is there here to put in Holdrege's place?"

Taking Electric Light.

Arrangements are being made to light the Union Pacific headquarters with electricity. The wires are now being strung to every room and burners are being put in place. The building will be illuminated on May 1.

Report on the Izard School.

The special committee of the board of education, consisting of Messrs. Goodman, Martin and Poppleton, appointed to investigate the condition of the Izard school, which Dr. Spaulding had charged with neglect, visited the building in company with Building Inspector Whitlock and made a thorough examination.

The committee found that, while the building was in an old and dilapidated condition, it was in no way in any danger of falling down. The passage of freight trains over the track immediately north of the building caused it to shake in a manner calculated to startle any one who was inclined to be at all nervous, but the committee was of the opinion that there was no immediate cause for alarm.

It was decided to recommend that a brace be put under the joists in one room in order to strengthen the "Tied Stairs" in a very large one and the joists are about thirty feet long.

The committee will probably recommend increased school facilities this fall, but it is only a question of time when the building will have to be abandoned.

Put Under Bonds.

Mr. Baker has previously secured a $10,000 bond for Miller under the $10,000 bonds, as his offense is a grave one. Miller was immediately taken into custody by the marshal and the friends of the culprit are rustling to obtain some bondsmen for him.
